

W. Y. Shaw Resigns As School Director

MRS. E. C. BATCHELOR APPOINTED TO FILL UNEXPIRED TERM.
ANNOUNCEMENT MADE DURING COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

At the commencement exercises at the school Thursday night, Mr. C. Howard McCarter, president of the School Board, made announcement of the resignation of Mr. Walter Y. Shaw as a member of our School Board. At this time he also stated that Mrs. Edwin C. Batchelor, president of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth had been appointed to fill the unexpired term. She will assume this position with the regular June meeting, the last Monday of this month.

The appointment of Mrs. Batchelor agrees with a popular feeling that should a vacancy arise, a woman would be the logical choice for a position on the School Board, and the selection is certain to meet with unanimous approval.

Hospital Tag Day Results Announced

$2,500 RAISED THROUGH CO-OPERATION OF VARIOUS MAIN LINE ORGANIZATIONS—NARBERTH CONTRIBUTES GENEROUSLY

The final returns of the Bryn Mawr Hospital Tag Day show a grand total of almost $2,500. The Ladies' Committee of the Devon Horse Show and County Fair, under whose auspices the Tag Day was promoted, are extremely gratified with the results. Over seven thousands tags were sold, and this represents practically one for every home from Bala-Cynwyd to Wayne.

All of the station chairmen and their committees worked very hard in their efforts to sell the tags, but their efforts were well awarded in the cordial response of the public. Word comes from station after station to the effect that without exception the people were glad to give their assistance to the Bryn Mawr Hospital. Sums from one penny to one hundred dollars were received by the taggers.

The Merion Committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Herbert T. Herr, Jr., and Mrs. Webster Plass, carried off the honors and received special mention. The entire Merion territory was thoroughly organized and honey-combed with workers. No one escaped.

Summer Concert of The Narberth Choral Society a Great Success

Those of us who were fortunate enough to be at the High School on Friday evening, June 10th, listened to the finest musical programme ever rendered in Narberth; and when one considers the short space of time that Professor Nice had to develop and train a group of people who had never sung together until a little over three months ago, is indeed short of marvelous, and was only brought about by the close application and concentration upon the work in hand.

"The Rose Maiden," which was the first production of the Choral Society, rendered a few weeks ago, was simply a forerunner of what was in store for the residents of Narberth, and we little dreamed that two musical programmes of such quality could be arranged and developed in such a short space of time.

It is indeed very difficult to emphasize any particular number of Friday evening's programme. Each one is worthy of special mention. In addition to the selections rendered by the Choral Society, Master John Richardson gave a wonderful performance on the violin. He is without question a master of this instrument, and those who did not hear this youth missed indeed a rare musical treat. Wonder if we may not have the opportunity of hearing him some time again in the near future? I am sure he will be given even a greater welcome than that which he received the other evening.

Narberth is indeed to be congratulated upon having such a musical organization as the Choral Society, and the writer is sure that there are many musical treats in store for our "Home Town" folks next year. Narberth and the Choral Society are each to be congratulated in having a gentleman who possesses the qualities of leadership exemplified in Professor Nice. Professor Nice can also be congratulated upon having at his command such a fine group of men and women capable

The funeral took place from the home of his sister, Mrs. Joseph Simpson, 207 Forrest avenue. The body of Connelly was among others which arrived from France last week.

Services were conducted in St. Margaret's Church by the Rev. Dr. Richard F. Cowley. Interment was in St. Denis' Cemetery. Connelly enlisted in the Tank Corps of the Rainbow division. He spent twenty-six months abroad and was wounded once in battle. Later he contracted pneumonia, which caused his death.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Dear Pennsylvania Railroad:

We know you are busy and have your trials and tribulations, just the same as we have, but can't you send a couple of men out to Narberth to trim up the grass around the station, particularly around the in-bound side?

And we'd also be obliged to you if you move, or have moved, those rather unsightly iron pipes also on the in-bound side, which have been there for quite a long time.

We folks here in Narberth do the best we know how to keep our own home grounds in ship-shape and we take considerable pride in our borough and its appearance. When one of our neighbors neglects his lawn or garden and permits unsightly trash to accumulate, we try, in a reasonable way, to persuade him to get busy and clean up.

Any help you can give us along this line, with respect to the station grounds, will be appreciated. Yours very truly,

"Our Town."

Still Another Chance

You may yet be able to secure a reservation on the special train from Narberth to Atlantic City, on Sunday, June 19, as the Narberth Choral Society management is holding some extra seats for people who find it impossible to make a decision until practically the last minute. Therefore, should you make up your mind as late as Saturday, June 18, you can stop at Mr. Nash's office to get a ticket, afternoon or evening, as Mr. Nash has arranged to keep his office open until 9 o'clock.

Or, come down to the station not later than 12.45 Sunday, and you may be able to secure a reservation at that time.

The train will leave Narberth Station at 1 P. M. sharp, stopping at North Philadelphia at 1.15 and arriving at Atlantic City at 2.30. The return special will leave Atlantic City at 11 P. M. sharp, stopping at North Philadelphia at about 12.15 and arriving at Narberth at 12.32.

Sunday will be a wonderfully sunny day, and the trip is going to be a very enjoyable one. The return fare is $5.18.

You (and that does not mean the "other fellow") act at once and make your reservation at Mr. Nash's office, or phone to Mr. Hillegas (367 W), or to Mr. Henderson (603). Don't wait until the last minute if you can possibly decide earlier.

Many Features to Commencement Week Program

The Baccalaureate Sermon.

The annual baccalaureate sermon to members of the graduating class of the High School was preached last Sunday night by the Rev. John Van Ness. The services were held in the Narberth Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Van Ness took as his text a part of the Sermon on the Mount. "But seek ye first the kingdom of God," Matthew 6:33.

He spoke of the value of youth, properly directed, as a guiding force in the world; of sacrifice and devotion.

The story was cited of the young man who, through the mother's self-sacrifice, obtained a college education, and how he took the medal presented to him for scholarship and pinned it to her faded shawl, declaring that she had earned it.

In conclusion Mr. Van Ness quoted a part of "The House by the Side of the Road," by Sam Walter Foss:

I will not sit in the scorners' seat
Nor hurl the cynic's ban—
I will build my house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

ALUMNI NIGHT

One of the pleasantest features of commencement week was the annual social meeting of the Narberth High School Alumni Association, held on Monday evening.

The new graduates of this year's class were welcomed into the Alumni Association at this meeting. About forty members and two guests were present.

Margaret Eyre, president of the Alumni Association, made a short speech of welcome to the new members, and Helen Keim, president of the Class of 1921, responded.

Mr. Wilson, principal of the schools, then addressed the graduates, assuring them of his interest in the Alumni, and telling of some of the opportunities for that body to assist in the growth of the school.

Mr. McCarter, president of the School Board, said a few words, congratulating the association upon its progress during the past year, and praising the hard work done by some of the officers in accomplishing the reorganization of the Alumni Association.

The meeting was then turned over to Jane Laird, chairman of the Entertainment Committee. The new members

THE PROTECTION OF BIRDS

While taking a stroll through the woods last Sunday, we met a gentleman and two children diligently searching for birds' nests. Inquiry revealed the fact that this was an egg hunt. The man said he intended to take "only one egg from each nest" for a collection.

Nest-robbing has been one of the biggest factors in the serious decrease in the number of many species of wild birds. On the subject of taking one egg, Chester A. Reed, the noted naturalist writes,

"Nine out of ten of our wild birds will leave a nest if a single egg is taken."

The collecting of nests and eggs, excepting for scientific reference, and by recognized naturalists, is now universally condemned. We quote a part of the Pennsylvania Bird Protection Act of May 14th, 1889.

Section 2. No person shall take or needlessly destroy the nest or eggs of any song or wild birds.

Section 7. Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in the county jail of not less than five nor more than thirty days, or by a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, or both at the discretion of the court.

(Note: English Sparrows (passer domesticus) are not protected by this act.)

Narberth is situated in a region abounding in birds, and aside from the legal protection, each citizen should do all in his power to encourage these welcome visitors, and to deter children from molesting the eggs and nestlings.

NARBERTH CITIZEN MISQUOTED BY CITY PAPERS

To the Editor of Our Town:—

In view of the editorial in last week's issue of Our Town, regarding location of mail boxes, permit me to state in all fairness, and with no criticism for anyone, that the articles appearing recently in Philadelphia newspapers concerning the matter, are inaccurate and at variance with the facts. No attempt was made, nor permission requested, to locate any mail box on property owned or occupied by me.

Charles H. A. Chain.

(Editor's Note: The editorial in last week's Our Town did not refer to any specific individual mentioned in the Philadelphia papers, but to those of our residents who give outsiders an opportunity to question Narberth's progressiveness.)

We are glad to receive this statement from Mr. Chain, and realize that his was not the only name used incorrectly in this respect by the Philadelphia newspapers.)

"THE COMMUNITY CAPITOL"

To the Editor of Our Town:—

I understand that some questions have been raised and considerable discussion has resulted concerning the use of the public school property for certain purposes. If I am correctly informed, some folks have questioned the right of the School Board to permit the Narberth Choral Society the privilege of holding its concerts in the school hall. The matter of permitting the community base ball team the privilege of using the school athletic grounds at times when the school is not in session, has been called in question.

I have just finished reading a book entitled "The Community Capitol." It comes from the pen of one of America's most gifted Congressmen, M. Clyde Kelley, of Pittsburgh. This brilliant young man was reared on a farm and has been in turn a school teacher, newspaper editor, state legislator and has been four times elected to Congress. In that body he had achieved the reputation of being one of its closest students and clearest thinkers. He has especially devoted his time and energy in the effort to make himself more useful and helpful in promoting the welfare of the people through the medium of the public school.

In his latest book Mr. Kelley shows the folly of the folks of a community living apart from each other and failing to meet and rub elbows with each other. The problems of the nation are clearly the problems of the community in magnified and multiplied form. If democracy is to attain its full fruition the folks of the individual community must know each other. They therefore need a meeting place where they can join together in their activities whether these be for entertainment, intellectual culture or the discussion of community affairs. The logical community capitol is the public school building, with its grounds and equipment.

The author holds that the community is a heavy loser because of its failure to utilize its school property for other purposes than the instruction of children. The latter is, of course, its primary purpose and nothing whatever must be permitted to interfere with that.

We quote from Mr. Kelley's book as follows:

"Of course the use of the school buildings as community centers is based upon the fact that the people are sovereign over these buildings and have an unqualified right to use them as they desire. It is unfortunately true that many times, because of lack of effective organization, boards of education have usurped the people's collective authority. They have often regarded themselves as owners, instead of agents and have felt competent to lay down laws for the very people who elected them to be trustees and nothing more.

As trustees, the boards of education have been justified in refusing to admit any right on the part of any special group to use the school building, and they have rightly made such use a matter of permission, to be decided by themselves. The school house does not belong to groups, it belongs to the citizenship, made up of the individuals of the community. But the refusal of any board of education to permit the whole community to use its own property as it desires, is an instance of servants giving orders to their masters; it is an intolerable usurpation of authority."

The author then proceeds to relate an incident where the board of education of Washington city refused the use of the school building for certain purposes. This resulted in an act of Congress asserting the right of the people to decide as to the use of their public school building. Permit me to say by way of comment that I regard Mr. Kelley's reasoning as sound. For a school board to permit the use of its property for every passing show or entertainment would be a serious mistake. On the other hand, if the town had a Choral Society largely representative of the community in which the members devote their time and talents to the entertainment of the people without commercial advantages, it would seem to me an absolutely clear case that such an organization should have the privileges of the public school building, and I believe that if the public pulse were properly felt, there would be practically no opposition.

Narberth has an amateur base ball team. Judged by the crowds which I saw on the grounds the other day, the community believes in its team and desires the privilege of seeing it play. It seems to me that this is a case where the community capitol should be used for a community purpose.

It was my pleasure to hear one of the Choral Society's concerts, and I am proud to be a citizen of a town which can command so much talent and use it for the benefit of the public. It was likewise my privilege to witness one of the base ball games. So far as I could see, it was clean and wholesome. As a taxpayer and citizen of Narberth, I want to express my approval of the action of the Board in permitting the Choral Society and the community base ball team free use of the school and athletic grounds, both of which organizations are capable of contributing largely to the happiness and welfare of the community.

Harry M. Chalfant.

CHORAL SOCIETY'S SUMMER CONCERT

As one of the few surviving ex-Editors of Our Town, I feel it my duty to comment upon certain Narberth things from time to time, with the same feeling and spirit as though I were still actively engaged in the work of your little paper.

It is about the Narberth Choral Society upon which I am now commenting, and particularly concerning their Summer Concert given last Friday evening in the Auditorium of the Narberth High School.

In the first place, I must congratulate the Society for its great fortune in having Professor Clarence C. Nice so close at hand, and to know that he is one among us in our home town,—such a comfort to know that we didn't have to go away from home for our leader, for, search if you will, far and wide, to me it doesn't seem possible that such qualities of master and pupil as displayed last Friday night, could have been brought together unless there was great common feeling to have prompted such a wonderful spirit as was shown. It certainly does take home-town feeling with home-town folk to get at the real heart of things, especially when everyone concerned knows exactly what he is about.

And every member of the Choral Society seemed a vital part to the whole. Watching them closely, you could not fail to notice the intentiveness, the earnestness and self-confidence displayed by each member during the rendering of the various selections. There was always an alertness of spirit, a brightness of eye, so to speak, that gave so much life to every moment. In choral singing, oftentimes, there are times of dragging, moments when one part over-balances the other, with an endeavor of the leader to bring these parts up to their required standard. Not so with our own Choral Society! You couldn't find them off their standard last Friday evening. Every moment found each singer at his best, with no undue urging from the leader. And you didn't have to watch Professor Nice very closely to know that he was the happiest one present. It is such encouragement for the singers to know that their work is appreciated by their leader.

Of course, the work of Master John Richardson, Violinist, and Mr. Erl Beatty, Pianist, was wonderful, but the occasion demanded such great talent, for the Choral Society's work was of such calibre that to have associated any other but the best talent would have underestimated the standard of our Society.

And the Orchestra! While we couldn't see just who was who, yet, after all, we do not "see" music, we "hear" it, and we did hear the work of the Choral Society Orchestra. Its work was a concert by itself, and the Choral Society is most fortunate to have such assistance, and of home-town folk, too.

It would take too much space to go into detail regarding the wonderful program. If you were there, you have seen and heard it all. If you weren't, I'm sorry for you, and would advise you never to miss another concert, as long as you live, especially if it is given by the Narberth Choral Society, assisted by the Narberth Choral Society Orchestra, and directed by Professor Clarence C. Nice.

FOURTH OF JULY, 1921.

The great sacrifice of life and destruction of property through the careless handling of fireworks and fire-crackers should be a sufficient reason for changing the usual method of celebrating the day; and instead of distracting noises produced by the firing of guns, pistols, fire-crackers and other equally dangerous catch-penny affairs which often result in eyes being destroyed, arms torn off, lives lost and property burned through carelessness, let us go back to the OLD DAYS when the Fourth of July was sanely celebrated by the unfurling of the Stars and Stripes, salute of guns under the supervision of properly trained gunners, ringing of church bells, patriotic songs and speeches. Noise is not patriotism.

The fire-cracker is a national nuisance, and its use should be avoided in the interest of safety. Avoid calamity by a safe and sane celebration on the coming Independence Day.

SCHOOL BOYS FOR FARMS

Robert J. Peters, director of the Bureau of Employment of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, has sent out an announcement to farmers, pointing out the availability of numerous high school boys for farm work.

"At this time when the public schools and the high schools throughout the State are closing, there are released many boys whose services can well be used upon the farms. Will you please, therefore, call the attention of the farmers in your county to the fact that many able-bodied and energetic boys and youths are available for suitable work upon the farms during June, July and August? I am sure that there are many farmers in your county who can use the services of these boys, and I am sure that these boys, under proper guidance and encouragement, can perform excellent work."

"Farmers in your county can secure the services of such boys through Mr. K. M. Coolbaugh, superintendent of the State Employment office, 1519 Arch street, Philadelphia."

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 3 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.

THE ECONOMIC VALUE OF BIRDS.

The Vireos.

Allied to the warblers in their care of our forests are the vireos and orioles. The vireos are a family of small birds slightly larger than the warblers and less highly colored. They frequent the tree-tops and consequently only one or two of the family, the red-eye and the warbling vireo, are very easily identified. Their food consists largely of caterpillars, especially those forms dependent on protective coloration for their existence. Few birds are more delicate or thorough in this work of insect destruction than the red-eyed vireo.

The orioles, especially the Baltimore oriole, need no introduction to Philadelphians, though perhaps it is not generally known that he was named after Lord Baltimore, the founder of the Maryland colony, whose livery was the same gorgeous orange and black. Rose growers should be grateful to remember that this oriole destroys great quantities of aphids or plant lice and scale insects. But his greatest service consists in his war upon caterpillars, of which the tent caterpillar forms a large part. In the western part of this State I have seen whole trees enveloped in the nets of this insect, and it is interesting to note that in that section orioles are as common as robins, and in the fall their graceful nests may be seen swinging from almost every tree in a village.

In fact, this curious ability of the birds to seep out a section overrun by some special pest has many times saved large areas from the total destruction of its vegetation.

The less brilliant chestnut and black colored orchard oriole, named from its preference for orchards, is also most useful in destroying worms and caterpillars, and is very valuable to fruit growers.

MEDALS FOR GOLD STAR MOTHERS.

The War Department is making a special effort to distribute Victory Medals to all Gold Star Mothers or the nearest relative of every soldier who died in the service.

Lieutenant Colonel Young, who is in charge of the Pennsylvania District, promises every mother or the nearest relative a Medal, if they will communicate with the Victory Medal Office, U. S. Army, Post Office Building, Scranton, Pa., without delay.

PRESBYTERIAN PICNIC.

The Presbyterian Sunday School picnic will be held at George's Hill on Saturday, June 25. Transportation will be provided for all between the church and the picnic grounds. First cars will leave the church at 9 o'clock in the morning and cars will be at the church at 1 P. M. for those who wish to go for the afternoon.

TENNIS AUXILIARY HOLDS TEA.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Narberth Tennis Association held a silver tea on Friday, June 10th, on the lawn of the residence of Mrs. Samuel T. Atherholt.

Some business was transacted, by-laws read and accepted and future plans discussed. Mrs. Hartley offered to be hostess at the meeting in July, but since then it has been decided that as so many of the members will be out of town, all regular meetings will be postponed until September.

Nevertheless, it is planned to have several porch and lawn parties throughout the summer, at which the members may play cards and enjoy a pleasant afternoon.

The work was done very thoroughly and systematically and, as the result, the committee collected $1,318.00,—more than one half of the total sum.

The taggers sold tags at the ball games of the Main Line Baseball League. This was done at Narberth, Ardmore, Highland Park, Bryn Mawr, Wayne, and Berwyn, because every team in the League was anxious to do its share.

The other station committees collected the following amounts:

$13.21, Bala Cynwyd; $96.08, Narberth; $122.00, Wynnewood; $142.79, Ardmore; $18.00, Gladwyn; $260.00, Haverford; $103.50, Bryn Mawr; $35.00, Rosemont; $100.00, Wayne; $46.54, Berwyn.

In response to an appeal, which the committee made to a number of organizations along the Main Line for the Bryn Mawr Hospital, the Banyan Tree Lodge, No. 378, I. O. O. F., sent one hundred dollars.

The Main Line Amusement Company, which will erect a large and modern moving picture house in Ardmore this summer, agreed to set aside one whole day in the Fall and turn all the receipts over to the Hospital.

The Girls' Community Club of Ardmore contributed ten dollars.

The Juniors of the Ardmore Woman's Club and the Main Line Federation of Girls' Clubs will each give a dance this month and turn the proceeds over to the hospital.

The Merion Civic Association gave the Merion Tag Day Committee one hundred dollars to start the good work.

The Eastern Star Lodge of Gladwyn also helped their local tag committee, as did a group of women who had a cake and candy sale for the benefit of the Hospital.

The Bryn Mawr Business Association expects to give an entertainment in the near future and turn the receipts over to the Hospital.

Word was received from many other organizations saying that they were sorry not to have received word before their May meeting, but that they will consider it at the June meeting.

The final meeting of the Ladies' Committee of the Devon County Fair will be held at the residence of Mrs. Archibald Barklie, on Monday, June 13th, when the reports of the various Committees will be brought in. At this meeting the definite results of the whole enterprise will be announced.

The Executive Committee of the Fair wish to extend their thanks to the Main Line for their splendid co-operation, as well as the individuals on whom they called for assistance.

Everyone who has helped in any way whatsoever feels a little closer drawn to the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

The following is the Narberth committee that assisted in the Tag Day:

Miss Margaret Fowler, Chairman; Miss Thelma Fowler, Miss Mabel Haney, Miss Mabel Kirkpatrick, Miss Marian Knapp, Miss Lois Smith and Miss Elizabeth Jones.

of producing under his leadership such concerts as we have been fortunate enough to listen to this last spring.

It is up to each and every one of the residents of Narberth to get behind this organization one hundred per cent. Express your appreciation and interest by your co-operation. Every home in Narberth should be represented by at least one associate member. Anyone who has not already subscribed for a membership should do so by voluntarily getting in touch with the Secretary, Miss Ruth Prescott. She will be more than glad to tell you all about it and enter your name as a member.

Again I would extend congratulations to Professor Nee and the Narberth Choral Society.

O Heav'n horn gift of song, thy power Unbounded rules the heart of man; Thy voice can soothe the deepest grief, Can sweetly lighten darkest hours. Whether for courage, love or praise, Whether for joy, or grief, or woe, Thou, lending beauty from on high, Canst voice emotion's fairest dreams.

Thy chain of harmonies divine, Fashion'd with links of truth and love, Binds all the goods of life in one, Draws soul to soul, and earth to heav'n. W. S. H.

GETTING READY FOR THE TENNIS CONTESTS

out of three sets, the same as in the preliminary rounds. Suitable prizes will be awarded the winners of the regular and consolation tournaments.

The Junior Tournament.

The tournament for juniors will start Monday afternoon, July 11, at 2 o'clock, and will be for singles as well as doubles. But there will be no consolation matches in either singles or doubles.

All preliminary matches in these junior tournaments will have to be played during the week beginning July 11, so as to be ready for the finals which are scheduled to be played on the tournament courts at 4 P. M. Saturday afternoon, July 16. The entrance fee for each player for each event will be 50 cents. Entries should be in the hands of the Tournament Committee as soon as possible.

Beautiful cups will be given as prizes to the winner in the singles and to the two winners in the doubles.

were asked to give an impromptu play, and ten minutes was allowed them to write, rehearse, costume and stage the play.

The Seniors were equal to the occasion, however, and to the tune of a dirge, walked mournfully into the room, two boys carrying floral decorations, and two others bearing the body of the "late departed" Lillian Redifer. The mourners declared she had died from the shock of having graduated, and the sound of their weeping was heard for blocks. "Babe" made a good corpse, but spectators were of the opinion that she laughed more than a dignified corpse should. The drama was roundly applauded.

A contest in sculpturing was next held. Each person present was given a stick of gum, a card, and a tooth-pick, and asked to mould said gum (after use had rendered it pliable) into some familiar object. A tie between Gertrude Ross and Lawrence Houston was decided in the latter's favor, by drawing lots. The winning model was a very realistic turtle.

The last, and certainly not least important part of the evening's entertainment were the refreshments. These consisted of brick ice cream, lady-fingers and cakes, provided by the efficient Refreshment Committee, headed by Eleanor Eyre.

The meeting adjourned at ten o'clock, the members declaring it was the most successful ever held by the Association.

COMMENCEMENT

The annual commencement exercises were held in the School Auditorium on Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

Twelve students received their diplomas, as follows:

Eleanor R. Brown, Frances K. Diamond, Frances M. Keim, Merritt Davis, Helen M. Keim, Lansford E. Knapp, Alice E. Maltby, Edwin H. Martin, Lillian J. A. Redifer, Rose Ricklin, Rose D. Smedley, Albert Ward.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. David M. Steele, Rector of the Church of St. Luke and the Epiphany.

The address was filled with sound advice and subtle humor. The speaker emphasized mental, physical and social balance, and the embodiment of the three graces, faith, hope and charity, in the life which the graduates were entering.

"Have a care whom you marry—if you do marry," was one piece of advice, and the story was told of the college president whose faculty consisted only of his wife and himself.

A laugh followed the statement that "your task from now on is to bring up your parents properly."

In this friendly manner, Dr. Steele presented many serious and valuable points.

The excellent work of the High School chorus did much to bring about the success of the evening. In all six selections were rendered, in addition to the school song with which the program ended.

THE FIRESIDE

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Nickerson and family left Narberth on Thursday for the summer, which they will spend at Cape Cod, Mass.

Several young folks of Narberth have returned home for their summer vacation. Among them are Mary Chalfant, from Wilson College, Gertrude Ross, from Mt. Holyoke, and Ava Mulholland, from the Connecticut College for Women.

The Ladies of the Presbyterian Church entertained 35 shut-in children from Philadelphia, on Saturday afternoon. Entertainment and plenty of good eats were provided for them. Not the least enjoyable part of their outing was the trip out and return in the automobiles supplied by many friends.
